PROJECTS

ScholarSync : A Student Collaboration and Learning hub

ScholarSync is a collaborative platform, primarily developed in Python with HTML components, designed to help scholars, researchers, and students stay organized and connected. The project facilitates the management and synchronization of academic activities such as document sharing, research tracking, collaboration, and communication among scholarly communities.

LMS (Library Management System)

Architected a robust backend using Django REST Framework (DRF), delivering optimized REST APIs for user and inventory management. Enhanced system performance through SQL query optimization and integration testing.

Office Employee Management System

Developed a scalable web application using Python and Django to streamline employee data entry and departmental organization. Designed a responsive user interface using Bootstrap and CSS.
